CEILING CENTRES RINGS

CEILING RING

A ceiling ring may be used as an alternative to the ceiling rose. In order to differentiate the area within the ring, colour a shade darker than the rest of the ceiling can be applied.

INSTALLATION INFORMATION

To choose a ceiling centre appropriate for your site, the size and style of room, ceiling height, size of light fixture, etc. should all be considered. Since the choice of a ceiling centre is very much a matter of taste, the only general guide which we offer is that you usually select a centre 2 to 4 inches wider in diameter than the widest diameter of the lighting fixture to be used.

Classic Mouldings ceiling centres are decorative only, and are not designed to support a lighting fixture. Follow the manufacturer's instructions for electrical installation of the fixture.

When installing a ceiling centre, the light fixture must be disconnected unless a ring is being installed which may fit over the fixture.

Advice

The centre can be primed and painted before installation. Only minor touch-ups will be required after installation.

The centre hole in the medallion is usually cut the size to fit a standard octagonal box. If it requires enlargement, a keyhole saw or even a pocket knife can be used to remove some plaster from the centre of the hole.

Some ceiling centres are deeper than others; therefore in some cases longer screws may be required to reach the electrical box.

Centre Installation

Trace the outline of the centrepiece on the ceiling surface.

Determine whether the ceiling is flat by placing the centre against the surface. If it is not, chip or scratch the surface until the centre fits flush with the surface.

Predrill 4 or more small holes in the ceiling centre. Choose somewhat flat or nondecorative areas in which to use screws, so that filling the holes when the centre is in place on the ceiling will be easier. Drill holes at an angle to improve security of the centre to the surface. Screws should be countersunk, and penetrate about 1 to 1 1/2 inches into the plaster/drywall surface. The screws should then penetrate the ceiling joists to a depth of 1/2 inch.

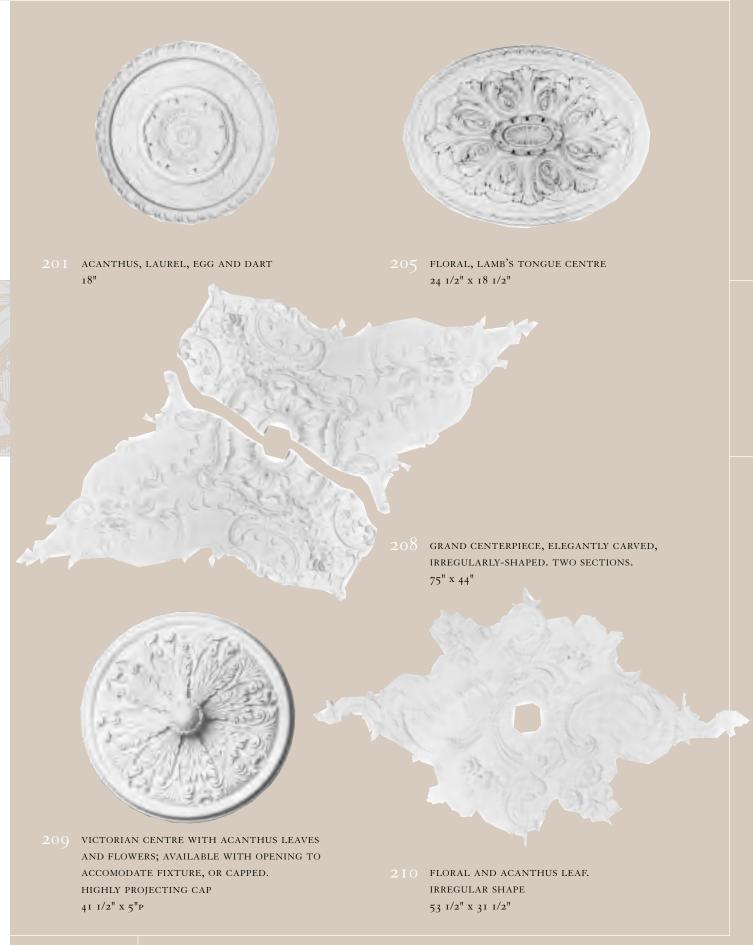

Mix the moulding adhesive to a thick creamy consistency as per instructions.

Apply the moulding adhesive to the entire back of the centre. Press and twist the centre into place and hold until firmly set.

The excess compound which oozes out around the centre is used to fill the edges of the centre. Smooth the edges of the newly affixed centre with a moistened brush.

The centre is not secure until the compound is set, so it is advisable to prop it up with a board running from the floor to the ceiling for a period of 24 hours.

The ceiling centre can now be retouched with paint.
